I would like to invite you to our third concert of the season, the world's turning. We have a fantastic line-up. Aitken's work reflects the balance of Yin and Yang in a commemoration of family members, friends and associates "who sleep before us". Cashian explores musical momentum, stasis, mechanisms and patterns, while Andreyev's transcendent sonic poetry moves in prismatic micro-variations. Bjarnason draws inspiration from and pays tribute to New York School painters Mark Rothko and Jackson Pollock.
